Thirty-six Persons Killed and Hundreds Injured.

DEADLY GIANT FIRECRACKER

Leads the List in Destruction of Life and Limb—Supposedly Unloaded Revolvers Claim Their Quota of Victims—Seven Killed in New York.

Chicago, July 5.—Thirty-six persons were killed and 1,471 injured while celebrating independence day, according to the Record-Herald, which made a canvass of the accidents in the entire United States during the past twenty-four hours. In Chicago six persons were killed by revolvers which were supposed to be unloaded and by the deadly giant firecracker. New York furnished seven of the dead, while the rest of the list of fatalities are scattered over the country.

In the list of injured many were seriously hurt and a number will undoubtedly die. The greater number of injuries were caused by the cannon firecrackers and this list is made up in a great part of children.

TRULY GLORIOUS HOLIDAY

Seven Lives Lost in Celebrating in New York City.

New York, July 5.—Independence day ushered in with much noise went out in a blaze of pyrotechnics, the most imposing that New Yorkers have witnessed.

Viewed from its brighter side the holiday was truly glorious. A smiling sun and moderate temperature brought tens of thousands to the beaches, the public parks and amusement resorts.

In the background the police and hospital surgeons went grimly about their work of removing the dead and ministering to the wounded. The police are still reckoning the cost in casualties of the day's celebration. The list is not complete, but it is known that this Fourth's celebration has cost seven lives, that a half dozen persons are dying and that hundreds of others are being treated at the hospitals for injuries ranging from slight burns with the possibility of tetanus developments to bullet wounds and lost limbs. Of the dead, three died in premature celebrations. The others were killed during the day.

In an ecstasy of patriotism Arthur Carraro rapidly discharged a revolver in his back yard. One of the bullets entered the head of his aunt, Mrs. Alfonso Fucarino, and she fell dead. The next bullet, by design or accident, killed the celebrator. Another person celebrating sent a bullet through the brain of eighteen-year-old Nimpa Grizzanti as she stood near the open window of her room dressing her hair.

Harry Inglehard, aged four, was killed by a bullet while looking out of the window of his home.

Jesse Guseviter, twenty-one years old, is dying from another stray bullet wound.

John Graham, ten years old, was mortally wounded by a charge from a toy cannon.

James Benezo, six years old, was all but burned alive when a fire cracker ignited his clothing.

Arthur Carfoot, twenty-five, is one of a dozen of whose hands were blown off.

Lost eyes and fingers and scar-leaving wounds added to the total of emergency cases.

BLOWN INTO THE AIR.

Party of Iowa Picnickers Injured by Explosion of Fireworks.

Chelsea, Ia., July 5.—Riding in a carriage to the river a party of a dozen picnickers were suddenly lifted into the air by the explosion of a quantity of fireworks under the seat. A careless youth had dropped a lighted cigar into the fireworks. The seat was torn loose and several of the party literally lifted into the air. Harry McKenna, Guy Alee and Ruth Boyer are so severely burned that their condition is critical.

Of the others in the party, Cecil Boyer, Clyde Bosley, Daisy Kenny, Laura Hall and Tenny Squires all sustained injuries.

FOUR PERSONS INJURED.

Pile of Fireworks Explodes at Greenup, Ill.

Greenup, Ill., July 5.—Peter Parker was fatally injured and three others were hurt when a pile of fireworks exploded. Parker was struck by rockets. His ribs were broken and he sustained internal injuries. The others injured were Mrs. Irene Cutright, seriously burned; P. J. Bowman, seriously burned; Mrs. Oscar Matton, seriously injured. Mrs. Matton was trampled in a panic when the explosives were set off.

GIANT POWDER EXPLODES

Two Persons Killed and Five Others Injured.

Des Moines, Ia., July 5.—Four pounds of giant powder exploded at Cedar Rapids, killing two persons and wounding five others. The explosion occurred in a boat. The powder was to be used in noisemaking at a small picnic. The survivors say that one of those killed threw a cigarette on the top of the can and that a spark from it must have reached the contents.

ACCIDENTS NUMEROUS.

Three Persons Probably Fatally Hurt at Racine, Wis.

Racine, Wis., July 5.—Fourth of July accidents were more numerous this year than in many years before. Three persons were probably fatally injured.

At 1222 North Michigan street a child threw a lighted firecracker into a can containing seven pounds of powder. In the explosion a shed was blown to pieces and John Salus and Patrick Dunham were probably fatally injured and John Jacobs and Max and Ethel Dunham were seriously hurt.

John Hoblik, twenty-five years old, was shot in the back by a stray bullet, which glanced up and came out of his neck. The wound may be fatal. He does not know who fired the shot or from which direction it came.

G. S. Chuetten had the lower part of his legs mangled by the premature explosion of a cannon cracker.

There were at least ten other accidents.

ON SAGAMORE HILL.

Pyrotechnic Display for Benefit of the President and His Family.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 5.—President Roosevelt saw no official callers Thursday, although he transacted the customary amount of routine business. His celebration of independence day took place in the evening when with his family, relatives and a number of friends he watched a pyrotechnic display on Sagamore Hill. The fireworks were managed by an expert from New York and the exhibition was enjoyed by spectators in the villages of Oyster Bay, Huntington and Cold Springs, from all of which Sagamore Hill was brilliantly visible.

Mrs. George B. Cortelyou and children were among the president's guests.

MANY PEOPLE KILLED

Tornado in Wisconsin Claimed Several Victims.

AT LEAST TEN LIVES LOST

And the Death List May Be Nearly Three Times That Large When All the Fatalities Are Known—Damage to Property Heavy.

St. Paul, July 5.—It is now believed that at least twenty-six lives were lost in the severe storms which swept over portions of Western Wisconsin. Numerous other persons were injured and much damage to farm property and to dwelling houses is reported.

Grand Rapids, Wis., where it was said five were dead as a result of the storm, is still cut off from communication and the extent of the calamity cannot be ascertained.

Milwaukee, July 5.—At least ten persons are believed to have lost their lives in the tornado that swept the western part of the state and great damage to buildings and crops are reported from all sections. The storm seems to have been fiercest at La Crosse. At Oakdale, near that city, Mr. and Mrs. John Dame were killed and Mrs. William Butterfield fatally injured. Every building in the village was blown down.

Continuing south from Oakdale, a strip of country south and east of Tomah was laid bare by the storm. Rescuing and searching parties have been sent out from Tomah, Black River Falls, Camp Douglas and other towns in the vicinity of the tornado, but the number of casualties has not been reported from all sections, the wires being down. All the wires are down east of Tomah, in many places poles being snapped off close to the ground.

Did a Great Deal of Damage.

West and south of Elroy the tornado did a great deal of damage and for some time both the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and Chicago and Northwestern roads were without wire service and trains were obliged to proceed on slow orders, feeling their way through the scene of the storm. Damage is also reported at Marsh Cut, Tunnel City and other points in the district affected. It will be twenty-four hours before the complete list of the casualties will be obtainable.

At Black River Falls the tornado struck the house of Joseph Buchner with just enough warning to give the family time to get down into the cellar. One boy, however, was carried away and landed in a field badly bruised. The house totally disappeared. Buchner and his wife were badly injured, three children were hurt and two of the children were killed. Mrs. Jasper Poff, residing near Warren, was also killed. The path of the tornado at Buchner's was only from two to six rods wide.

At Waupaca a barn on the farm of the Terrill was blown to pieces and James Steunwant, who had taken refuge from the storm, had an arm broken by a falling timber.

Two deaths occurred in Green Lake county. They are D. Y. Troxell and Mrs. Frank Draves, a resident of Koro.

Measures are being taken for the relief of hundreds who have suffered from the storm.

TWO KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Severe Electrical Storm Sweeps Over St. Paul.

St. Paul, July 5.—This city was visited by the worst thunderstorm of the season. Two men were struck by lightning and killed. A building at Grand and Saratoga avenues was struck by lightning.

The storm, which lasted only half an hour, came up from the west. Rain had fallen spasmodically and the rapidly darkening sky gave warning of the approaching storm. Accompanied by a thirty-eight-mile an hour wind and a heavy rain the storm broke. The thunder claps were terrific and for a short time all parts of the city were shaken by the heavy crashes. The storm was over in half an hour, 15 of an inch of rain having fallen.

George Baumgart, twenty years old, living with his parents at 1067 Bradley street, was killed instantly and his body was badly burned by a bolt of lightning that struck the Grant school, Arkwright and Magnolia streets. The body was found on the roof of the school building.

While leading his horse to the barn just before the storm broke Theodore Schultze of South St. Paul was struck by lightning. The horse was also struck, and both man and horse fell dead in their tracks. They were about fifty feet from the barn, to which the horse was being led.

The storm was very severe at South St. Paul.

WHOLE FAMILY POISONED

Seven St. Paul People Made Ill by Canned Salmon.

St. Paul, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Miller, Wyoming street and Livingston avenue, and their five daughters, Mrs. Minnie McHale, Polly, Emma, Martha and Edith Miller, were poisoned by eating canned salmon. The father and three of the daughters are seriously ill. Three of the girls were taken to the city hospital in the police ambulance. Those taken to the hospital are Polly, Emma and Edith and the latter, the youngest, is said to be in a critical condition.

Those in the family decided to have a cold dinner and one of the girls was sent to the grocery to buy two cans of salmon. Less than half an hour after the meal was finished Mr. Miller had pains in his chest and nausea. He collapsed and fell to the floor of the kitchen.

The other members of the family went to the assistance of the father and all of them were taken suddenly ill and could do nothing for Mr. Miller, who was on the floor groaning with pain. Mrs. Minnie McHale, who was less affected than the others, went to the door of the house and called to the neighbors.

Dr. Asa Johnson was called and found the family in a helpless condition and writhing with pain.

He gave temporary treatment to each of them. He notified the police and Captain W. Hanft sent the police ambulance to the house. Mr. Miller refused to go to the hospital. Three of the daughters were taken from the house.

It was said at the hospital that they probably will recover. Mr. Miller, however, continues in a weak condition and may not recover.

DESTINATION NOT DECIDED

But Battleships May Be Sent to the Pacific.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 5.—The basis of the report that a fleet of sixteen American battleships was to be sent to the Pacific is probably explained in an official statement made public at the executive office here.

While not expressly stated, it is intimated that the battleships may go to the Pacific in the near future, but if they do it will be in furtherance only of a plan of routine naval maneuvers. Moreover, it is added that the matter of destination is undetermined and the fleet is quite as likely to be ordered to the Mediterranean or the South Atlantic as to the Pacific. In any event the statement emphasizes that no political significance is to be attached to the trip and it is further made clear that the inference that friction between individual citizens of this country and natives of Japan has influenced the government in the disposition of its fighting sea force is not justified.

It is the policy of the navy department to get the battleships together occasionally for an extended cruise. Arrangements for such a cruise are now under way. They may or may not mature by the coming winter.

FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY.

One Italian Killed and Another Wounded in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, July 5.—In a free-for-all shooting affray between a party of Italians north of the city one man was killed and another wounded. A Farwell avenue car was going north near the Country club when it ran over a man and cut off his leg. The crew made an investigation and found that he had been murdered, his body being riddled with bullets. Near by lay another wounded Italian, his body also riddled with revolver bullets, bird and buckshot. The dead man is Vincenzo Ferrari of Kenosha and the wounded man is Dominic Moracad, who recently came from Chicago. The wounded man says he was attacked by a party of Italians and shot. He had a revolver, a razor and a stiletto on his person. The police have been unable to solve the affair and cannot find the cause of the shooting.

GOING TO CHICAGO.

John D. Rockefeller Leaves Pittsfield, Mass.

Pittsfield, Mass., July 5.—John D. Rockefeller has left Pittsfield for Chicago, where on Saturday he will be interrogated in the federal court regarding the affairs of the Standard Oil company. Mr. Rockefeller assisted several children staying at the home of his son-in-law, E. P. Prentice, to light fireworks during the day.

Thursday evening Mr. Prentice took his father-in-law in an automobile to State Line station on the Boston and Albany railroad, where the westbound express which left Pittsfield at 8 p. m. was flagged.

No Idea of a Boycott.

London, July 5.—"The leading chambers of commerce assure me," cables the Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, "that they never entertained the idea of boycotting American goods. Such a boycott would be considered suicidal in view of the existing trade conditions."

One Man Killed and Many Other Persons Injured.

Providence, R. I., July 5.—Paul Monroe, a motorman, is dead and Alex Janelle, also a motorman, is dying and nearly a score of other persons were severely injured in a collision of three electric cars at East Providence. The cars were bound into the city from Taunton and Fall River on the Providence division of the Old Colony street railway. Three of the cars were badly smashed. The accident is said to have been due to the failure of the brake on the rear car to work.

Wins All-Around Championship.

New York, July 5.—Martin J. Sheridan of the Irish-American Athletic club of this city won the all-around championship of the Amateur Athletic union at Celtic Park, L. I. Sheridan's only opponent was a clubmate, Richard Cotter. Sheridan established a new record of 7,130½ points for the ten events, beating his former record of 6,820½ points, made at Boston two years ago.

One Killed and Two Wounded.

Roodhouse, Ill., July 5.—Orval Lane, a young man from Macoupin county, shot and wounded John Garrison of Whitehall, a man named Retherford of this vicinity and Charles Armstrong of Roodhouse. FOURTH OF JULY STUNT.

Results in the Death of a Minnesota
Youth.Winona, Minn., July 5.—A Fourth of July "stunt" caused the death of Roy Van Sicklen, aged seventeen years, at a picnic park near here. The park is illuminated by an electric light tower 150 feet high and Van Sicklen following a "dare" from companions climbed to the top of the structure. He came in contact with a live wire and his body was hurled to the ground. The accident was witnessed by 300 persons.

MANY PERSONS INJURED.

But No Lives Are Lost During Panic at a Celebration.Rockport, Ind., July 5.—While an immense crowd that attended the Fourth of July celebration here was going from the amphitheater to the fair grounds where a barbecue was being served, the walkway from the pavilion gave way and a panic ensued.
By almost a miracle no lives were lost. Edward Parker sustained a broken leg and many others were injured.

No Fatalities in St. Paul.

St. Paul, July 5.—No fatalities and few serious injuries resulted from the celebration of Independence day in St.
Paul. The record for the day so far as could be learned from extensive inquiries of physicians and hospitals totalled eight injuries, the greater portion of which were of a minor character. The fire loss for the day was insignificant. No loss of life occurred in Minneapolis and nobody was badly hurt.

Loses His Job; Ends His Life

Grand Forks, N. D., July 2.—John
Hancock, agent for the Duluth Eleva-

CHAS. WILLIS IS KILLED BY CARS
He is Fatally Injured While Trying to Ride on a
Freight Train
HE HAD BOTH LEGS CUT OFF

Physicians Gave Practically No
Hope for Recovery After Dressing Wounds

Charles Willis, the seventeen year old son of James Willis, 518 south Ninth street, had both legs cut off while trying to board a moving train in the yards here the forenoon of the Fourth of July. He was endeavoring to get to Staples on No. 45 to witness a ball game and had climbed between the cars and fell to the rails. One leg was cut off above the knee and the other below the knee. He was hurried to the Northern Pacific hospital and his wounds dressed. The doctors gave practically no hope for his recovery, and he died shortly after 12 o'clock.

There are at least a dozen versions of the accident and THE DISPATCH representative interviewed several who were present immediately after the accident. James D. Edwards and A. J. Loom, yard clerks, were probably as nearly eyewitnesses as anyone. The former states that he saw young Willis run diagonally across the yards near the Monarch elevator and catch onto the train about eight cars ahead of the caboose. The next he saw was the boy was lying on the north side of the track after the train had passed. Mr. Edwards was engaged in taking the seals on a string of cars on a track south of the one No. 45 was on and paid no attention to the boy from the time he saw him swing onto the train until he saw him again after the cars passed. Mr. Loom, who was hanging on the side of the train under which the boy fell, saw him after the train passed and he and Edwards signaled the train and the conductor swung off and went back to the boy. By the time the engineer was signaled and the train brought to a stop it was at the hospital and the crew at once notified the surgeons and one of them and a hospital steward came over at once from the hospital. In the mean time Conductor Keller, who was in charge of the train and Mr. Edwards and Mr. L. S. Budd, who had been sitting in his home on West Main street and heard young Willis scream, put an improvised tourniquet on the leg which was cut off below the knee and attempted to tie up the other but it was lacerated so close to the body that it was impossible to do anything. Willis told Mr. Budd that he was trying to cross through the train and fell between the cars. He also told Mr. Edwards that it was his own fault, so that gentleman states, and that but for his presence of mind his body would have been cut in two. Mr. Loom states that after the boy caught the train he climbed onto the top of the train and walked the entire length of the car, and whether he fell from the top of the car or had climbed part way down is not known.

Willis was employed by the Northern Pacific railroad in the car shops and resided with his parents. He was well liked by a large number of friends young and old who unite with his bereaved parents in their sorrow for his tragic death. The funeral will take place from St. Frances church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, with interment at Evergreen cemetery. The mother is said to be almost prostrated by the terrible shock.

NINE DAYS FOR SEVEN JURORS
Judge McClenahan's Court Having
Strenuous Times Getting Jury
In Paricide Case

Geo. W. Moody was down from Grand Rapids to spend the Fourth with his family. He states that the term of court being held there by Judge McClenahan will last until the first of August at the best. There are four murder trials on the docket. The court has been nine days securing seven jurors in the case of the state against Keating Willis, charged with the murder of his father. As there is a big case set for hearing in chambers in Brainerd August 28, and the next term of court convenes in Bemidji September 15, Mr. Moody does not think the prospects for a vacation for Judge McClenahan or himself are very flattering.

Wild West Shows
Pawnee Bill is of course the central and conspicuous figure in the wild west division of the show. He is a product of the days of the trail and the range, and typifies them gallantly and picturesquely. The annals of the early west affords no more lively and adventurous career than his, and he reproduces without illusion under canvas the life and environment of the American history which he had a conspicuous part in making. Of Indians there are several hundred fresh from their wigwams, real children of nature, away from their reservation for the first time. Mexico contributes a quota of the champions of the lasso. The vivid tournament they will provide is the summary of the west, the west before the long trails were blocked, before barb wire traversed ranges, before the superb freedom was exchanged for the limits of exact ownership. A street parade will inaugurate the date, July 12th.

MUSIC AND DRAMA
"Dockstader's Minstrels" tonight.

It is interesting to note that Lew Dockstader and his great minstrels who are to be seen at the opera house tonight is the only minstrel organization in the world confining its production to the first-class theatres, that is the theatres where the first stars of the theatrical firmament appear. Lew Dockstader stands alone in the world of minstrelsy as the one best exponent of his art—an art which has withstood the test of time and today is as popular—more popular—with the masses than any other class of modern amusement.

The great Dockstader knows minstrelsy from its A to its Z, and he knows that to preserve its popularity it must be kept thoroughly up to the march of progress which dominates all interests. His present organization is one of seventy people, embracing an orchestra of thirty musicians, a corps of twenty dancers, a staff of ten solo singers, and, including himself, a round half dozen of the most famous "End Men" in the world. From a scenic standpoint minstrelsy has never known anything to approach the massive setting which surrounds the efforts of Dockstader and his company. From the "Palace of Emeralds," which is the alluring title of his "First Part" to the closing picture showing the moon-lit swamps of Louisiana every detail of the performance is carried in two of the largest baggage cars known to railroading. The enterprise displayed by Lew Dockstader in extending his tour to a thorough visit of the Pacific coast merits a reception for him all along the line in keeping with the welcome he is always assured in Eastern cities.

Civic League Notes
Cut the weeds.
Dig out the dandelions.
Trim up your trees.
Keep the lawn well watered.
"There is more civil pride evidenced than when I was a resident of the city" said a visitor to our city. "You are making the city more as it should be."
The park committee of the city council is slowly getting Gregory park into shape. It is hoped that the old fence will soon be removed.
Of course it takes muscle to make a pretty lawn but if you doubt it it pays walk up North Fourth street. There are but few of the lawns on this street but are well cared for. Incidentally it may be added that property values are higher on this street.

Do not pull up the dandelions in the lawn. If you do hundreds of others will flock to take their places. Professor Bailey of, North Dakota, who has had such success with weeds of all kinds has been dandelioning this year with an anti-dandelion spray that makes the plants wish they had not. He says: "We find that iron sulphate kills young dandelions with one spraying, but where the roots are thick it may be necessary to spray several times. We recommend the use of iron sulphate at the rate of one pound to each four gallons of water. You can spray it on the plants with any spray that will throw a fine, misty spray wetting the leaves. Do the work in the morning when it is not liable to rain. The leaves will die after the second or third day. "We have not been in the habit of recommending this substance for other weeds than mustard and king heads, but of late we have been getting such good results with dandelions that we think it worth while for others to try it. It does not injure the grass."
If this proves to be true it is one of the discoveries of the century. Anyone who can throw a scare in the dandelion deserves a statue.—A. J. R. in Minneapolis Journal.

The Old Stagecoach.
Those who are accustomed to look back with longing eyes to the "good old days" will find it interesting to learn that in the middle of the eighteenth century the common carrier between Selkirk and Edinburgh, a distance of thirty-eight miles, required two weeks to make the journey. In 1778 it took a day and a half for a stagecoach to go from Edinburgh to Glasgow, only forty-four miles away. About the same time the swiftest stages seldom covered the road between Edinburgh and London, 310 miles, in less than two weeks, an average speed of about twenty-two miles a day.—St. Louis Republic.

The Bride Wins.
At Yarmouth, in St. Nicholas' church, one of the most curious objects is known as the Devil's Chair. It is formed out of the huge jawbone of a whale and stands at the west end of the church. When fisher lasses get married, they think it good for the newly wedded couple to race from the chancel, and they believe that whoever reaches the Devil's Chair first will rule the roost in the little household they are about to set up.—London Graphic.

Aged Couple Killed.
Keosauqua, Ia., July 5.—Daniel Boerstler and wife, an aged couple, attempted to drive across a railroad track in front of a moving train two miles from here and were instantly killed.

A STRENUOUS NIGHT
A Quintette of Brainerd Young People Celebrate the night of the Third Unpleasantly

A party of five of Brainerd's prominent young society people celebrated the night before the Fourth of July in a manner they did not anticipate. Misses Louise Beare, Kittie Johnson and Adelaide Theviot and Messrs. Fred Sanborn and J. P. McGinnis started from Brainerd on the evening of the third to visit at the summer cottage of Dr. and Mrs. Werner Hemstead at Hubert. Everything went merry as a marriage bell until they got about eight miles from town when a wheel on the rig gave out. They wandered around the woods most of the night, the boys finally finding a farm house where the young gentlemen levied upon a wagon and succeeded in conveying their fair companions to the Hemstead cottage about five o'clock the morning of the Fourth.

CAN'T GET TRAIN
Joint Sunday School Picnic at Deerwood Must be Given up Because Train Can Not be Secured

There has been a movement on foot to hold a joint picnic of several of the Sunday schools of this city at Deerwood in the near future, but it has been abandoned. J. H. Noble, who took the matter of a special train up with the Northern Pacific railroad company has received a reply from Mr. Clelland, through Agent Mosher asking a guarantee of $275. Last year the railroad only asked a guarantee of $50, and there were tickets to the amount of $195.50 sold, all of which went to the railroad. The reason given for the large guarantee asked this year is that the coaches would be brought dead-head from St. Paul and the engine from Duluth. This large guarantee will result in the calling off of the picnic so far as going to Deerwood is concerned.

SLICING A SKYSCRAPER.
Top of Singer Building to Be Cut Off For Three Story Addition.
A portion of the upper part of the great Singer building, at Liberty street and Broadway, New York, is to be sliced off and three additional stories sandwiched in between the seventh and eleventh floors, says the New York Times. Work on the scaffolding began the other day, and a small army of men will be occupied night and day until it is completed. The undertaking is confined to the original corner building, which is to be a part of the monster forty-one story structure now being erected, the tallest office building in the world.

According to Ernest Flagg, the architect, the surgical operation is necessary in order that the old eleven story building shall conform in height and outline to the new fourteen story addition above, from the center of which will rise the 612 foot tower. It is also necessitated by the fabulous realty values in lower Broadway, the policy of the owners being to increase the height of the old building in order to obtain 15,000 square feet of additional office space.
The roof and structural material will be removed in sections to the ground. The eighth, ninth and tenth floors will then be built on, after which the old mansard roof, enclosing the four additional floors, will be replaced section by section.
The architect promises that no tenant on any of the lower floors will be disturbed between now and January, when the queer feat will be completed.

EZRA MEEKER'S MISSION.
Aged Pioneer Wants Oregon Trail Made National Boulevard.
Broadway, New York, accustomed as it is to "schooners," is going to see one soon that will make it sit up and take notice, for Ezra Meeker is going to drive through it his ox team and the original prairie schooner in which he went west in 1852, says the New York World.

Mr. Meeker, who is twenty-two years older than his prairie schooner, is on his way from his home in Puyallup, Wash., to Oyster Bay, N. Y., to interest the president and through him the country in making a grand boulevard of the old Oregon trail. He wants the old road between the Missouri river and the Pacific coast perpetuated as a monument to the hardy pioneers whose sacrifices and enterprises made the settlement of the west possible. He expects to ask congress to pass a bill at its next session appropriating the money for the preliminary survey.

While the ox team and prairie schooner were in Buffalo, Mr. Meeker was at the home of William A. Lawrence in Jamaica, N. Y., the other day completing arrangements for his visit to the president. He returned to Buffalo the next night to rejoin his "outfit," as he calls it.
The outfit makes about twenty miles a day in good weather, and Mr. Meeker is always willing to stop and explain the object of his trip, and already monuments costing from $100 to upward of $1,000 mark many historic points along the old trail.

Visiting Prison Chaplain—Ah, my friend, this world is full of trials. Incarcerated Guest—Don't I know it, mister? Ain't I 'ad my share of 'em? But it ain't the trials I minds so much. It's the verdicts.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

"HOW TO KEEP HEALTHY."

"I am not a believer in too much medicine. Don't take medicine all the time."

Get a good tonic and take it until the old vitality returns then stop. A general tonic and system renovator should be taken in the spring and fall. For this purpose there is nothing better on earth than Cooper's New Discovery, but I advise no one to take this medicine or any other all year long.

Give nature a chance. Establish regularity in movement of the bowels. Drink plenty of water but not at meal time. Chew your food very carefully and eat slowly. Sleep with the window open, don't be afraid of fresh air and do not eat a great deal of grease. Be regular at meals. Go to bed and get up at the same hour each day if possible. Take a bottle of Cooper's New Discovery twice a year and your life should be long and healthy.

Here is what Cooper's New Discovery does for run-down people who need a tonic:

"I have been sick for a number of years with stomach trouble and also from back-aches and headaches. Sometimes I became so weak I could not stand on my feet. My food did not seem to nourish me and I could not gain strength. I felt tired to death all the time. Nothing I took helped me, and hearing so much of the Cooper medicines I decided to try them."

"I have taken two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery with the most remarkable results. I now feel entirely well. My appetite is fine, I sleep well, have no more headaches and am quite strong again. I cannot express my thanks for what these medicines have done." Sallie Middleton, 1957 Central Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DAME REMOR.

CAPTURE OF CAID MACLAIN

Resulted From Bandit's Suspicious of His Promises.

Tangier, July 5.—The capture of Caid General Sir Harry MacLean, commander of the sultan's bodyguard, by Raisuli, whose release the British government has demanded of Morocco, is explained here by the fact that Raisuli grew suspicious in the midst of the negotiations with the general, who was acting for the sultan of Morocco in an effort to persuade Raisuli to resume a peaceful life, that the general's promises were insincere and that he and the governing board were plotting to catch him and turn him over to the Sheriffian authorities. Consequently Raisuli decided to play a master stroke, which is generally considered to show that he has a secure retreat impregnable to the forces of the sultan.

The British legation is doing everything possible to effect the release of the caid. The British minister, G. A. Lowther, has had several interviews with Mohammed El Torres, the representative of the sultan, but the legation is ignorant of the status of the negotiations, which are being conducted from Fez. The sheriff of Onezzan, the most venerated devotee of the empire, who is revered as a saint by the Berbers, is to conduct the negotiations for the release of the caid and it is believed he will be as successful as in the case of Perdicaris, the American citizen who was once a prisoner of Raisuli. Raisuli, it is asserted here dare not offend such a holy man and he will give up his prisoner for a reasonable consideration. It is reported here that the caid is being badly treated. He is seventy-two years of age and grave fears for his health are entertained. His three daughters, who live in this city, are a prey to the gravest anxiety.

Predicts Startling Message.

Shenandoah, Ia., July 5.—Jacob A. Riis of New York addressed 10,000 people at the Chautauqua here. At the request of President Roosevelt he urged the people of Iowa to investigate the immigration problem with a view of getting the Russian Jews and others in the tenements of New York on the Iowa farms. He says the president will make some startling recommendations in his next message to congress.

"AMERICAN WALK" IN LONDON

Society Women Taking Lessons to Acquire the "Tail" Glide.

This summer British society women have caught the "American walk," says a London cable dispatch to the New York Sun. They declare it is the most beautiful of all ways of walking. It has become so popular that quite a number of society leaders are taking lessons in it from dancing masters.

The tiny, mincing steps of the Frenchwoman and the long, manly strides of the Englishwoman are no longer good form. The "tail walk," as the new fashion is called, requires a tall figure, or if the walker be short she must at least be slender and hold herself exceedingly upright. She must have splendid leg muscles and an arched foot.

The new walk is a swift glide and has been described as the swaying walk which gives the idea of a yacht in breeze.
